Joann Kandrak, Decorating Mart, is the Accessory/Furniture Buyer for Decorating Mart. She has been employed there for 13 years and is responsible for displaying the 25,000 square foot showroom with furniture, artwork and accessories. Along with her part-time employment at Decorating Mart, she has taught classes on accessory arrangement, done residential design work and was featured in Atlanta Home Improvement Magazine for turning a two-story foyer into a home office.

Kelly Kole, Kelly Kole Interiors, Inc., Allied ASID, is known for creating spaces that highlight uniquely designed window treatments, distinctive accessories and a bold use of color. Kelly splits her time between designing and showroom accessorizing for Decorating Mart and working with her residential clients in the Marietta and Woodstock areas.

Look out over the beautiful upper balcony of this home is the Guest Master bedroom. This Suite reflects the luxuries that a guest might enjoy during the Southern Antebellum time period such as a silk settee, an ornate dressing vanity, a faux painted ceiling and luxurious custom linens and window dressings. While the bedroom has sumptuous feminine appeal, the adjacent Sitting Room is clearly more masculine. Designed as a refined yet comfortable and private retreat, the Sitting Room is a place for guests to enjoy the fire and admire a beautiful collection of antiques, books and accessories gathered from far away places. A full bath extends from the Sitting Room and boasts a beautifully carved sink which sits on a floor featuring distressed hardwood, tile and ceramic medallions. The Guest Master spaces are anchored by traditional but uniquely designed furnishings and then further inspired by the colors and textures of the late 18th century time period in the Deep South.
